Fai did not get to work by chance, but by her full intention and clear direction from her very first stage back in primary school.

This is why she always says “AND I NEVER WORK A DAY IN MY LIFE.”

FAI: An emcee is different from a speaker - I mean a loud speaker. You get your audience to listen, not to hear. You get them to feel, to participate, to remember and to connect. I love my job as much as I respect myself. I would never attend an event just to call it a day, but I am there to fulfill my passion.

Building a career as a speaking specialist, Rynyarat is comfortable with all, from small groups of people to crowds of thousands. With or without prepared English and Thai scripts, her natural warmth, friendliness and ability to stay positive and manage complex schedules ensure any seamless flow of the events which is sure to be directly translated as success.

Sophisticated, highly motivated and eager to learn, she has hosted more than 700 outstanding events organized by public and private organizations. Apart from Thailand, Rynyarat's career has taken her overseas hosting and interpreting many international events and conferences such as in Hong Kong, South Korea and Malaysia.
